I do not have a European passport

Anyone can get an UK Part 1 Yacht Registration. If you are not owning a European passport, we can still request an UK Part 1 boat registration for you. It is necessary that the ownership of the boat lies within the UK. This will be done by setting up an UK Limited Company under your name of which you are the only owner. When registering a UK Part 1 registration, we only use a new UK Limited company which we will create by us, for you. We do not accept existing companies. Yacht Registration Holland will arrange the whole process.

After we've created your new UK Ltd., we will prepare a bill of sale to transfer the ownership of your boat, yacht or jet ski to your new UK Ltd. This way the ownership of your boat now lies within the UK.

Please note that the company, of which you are the only owner, will not be active and so you do not have to pay any taxes, nor do you have any other obligations. We will arrange all for you! You don't even need an UK bank account. As we are an experienced company in UK Part 1 registrations, we have this entire process systematically figured out and available in a simple online registration form.

If you have any doubts, please read the feedback that we have been given by our satisfied customers from all over the world. You can read their personal experiences with our company at the website of Trustpilot here:

I do have a European passport

Do you have a European passport? Then we are still required to setup an UK Limited company for you. This type of boat registration is always in name and on the address of the company and the company is always the registered owner of the boat.

Please note that we do not accept already created companies to sign an UK Part 1 registration to. Setting up an UK Limited company is included in shown prices.
